

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

We have gotten to the point of not having much of a life, because non-thinking agencies force us to spend most of our time juggling our budgets so we can simply eat and have below average medical care. I do not believe that most people have worked all their lives for a few decent years of retirement and find themselves wasting those years writing "WAKE-UP" letters.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Linda Lea
